Headline:
Heavy rain through the morning, but becoming drier later.

Today:
Widespread heavy rain continuing into Friday morning. This will break up into showers by the afternoon, with some sunny spells to end the day. Blustery winds will make it feel rather cool. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells for many across the region with the odd shower possible through the night. Winds falling much lighter overnight. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Saturday:
Saturday will begin largely dry with sunny spells expected through the morning. Scattered showers, some locally heavy, will develop through the afternoon. Feeling cooler but pleasant in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A dry day on Sunday, plenty of sunny spells, risk of some very isolated showers. Risk of further isolated showers through Monday and Tuesday. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine.
